

DISTRICT MILITIA REACHES HOME

Drills Are Suspended Until October First—Wet Tents
Drying on Mall.

The 1903 encampment at Fort Washington and Hunt of the District National Guard, is now a matter of history. This morning the 1,500 men, brought by their days of camp life and work in the sun, returned to their occupations in the city refreshed, and with new vigor.

All drills, except where necessary and ordered by company officers, will be suspended until October. There will be plenty to do, however, this week. Tents and other equipment brought from the river forts yesterday are soaking wet, and were rolled and packed in that condition. All of these will have to be cleaned and dried, and placed in shape to pass a rigid inspection.

Stretch Canvas to Dry.

Today it looks as though an army was about to encamp on that part of the mall just south of the Center Market. Lieut. William A. Duvall, in charge of the army, had the wet canvas taken out and stretched on the grass to dry. A good, warm sun today has been doing wonders, and by nightfall it is expected most of the tents will be ready for storage.

It is quite unusual for a moving body of troops to put up their tents in a drizzling rain, as was done yesterday, but orders had been issued from the War Department that owing to the limited appropriation, every tent would have to be removed at once.

O'Halloran Called to Account.

Captain O'Halloran, of Company L, Second Regiment, has been ordered to make a written report, relative to his striking a private with the butt of his revolver. The private, it is said, was intoxicated and fighting with the first sergeant. Captain O'Halloran tried to separate the men, but the private would not desist and he struck him. It is probable an inquiry will be made on Captain O'Halloran's report.

Today the regulars at Fort Washington are breaking camp, and going back into barracks for another year. Most of them are glad to get back, as they much prefer sleeping in their bunks to the cots under the big guns.

PLUNGES 200 FEET WITHOUT AN INJURY

Girl Picking Flowers When She Loses Her Balance and Falls
Over Precipice.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The terrible experience of falling over a sheer precipice 200 feet high and not only living but being practically unhurt, is one which Miss Olive Perry, daughter of a tradesman, has had.

Miss Perry was gathering flowers at Clifton Rocks when she lost her balance and fell. She was taken to the Bristol Royal Infirmary where it was found no bones were broken.

FREEZES ICE CREAM WITH PRINTING PRESS

Connecticut Newspaper Man Pulls Off Novel Stunt With Thoroughness and Dispatch.

STAMFORD, Conn., Aug. 10.—When William A. White, of 115 Myrtle avenue, labored as an editorial writer for Connecticut newspapers his work was noted for a flavor of originality. Now he has retired after forty years as a newspaper man and he runs a little printery business here, but he has not forgotten how to be original.

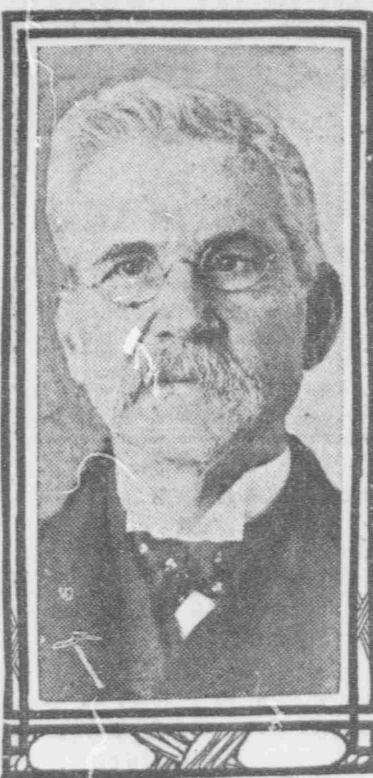

That was evident the other day when a party of friends found him trying out a new way of operating an ice cream freezer. He had a regulation freezer ingeniously connected with the job press, and while he turned out hand bills and bill heads on the electrically driven press, the family ice cream was being frozen. In five minutes he had enough for dinner.

LYNCHED FOR INSULT.

TIPTON, Ga., Aug. 10.—Charles Loke, a negro about eighteen years old, was lynched here early yesterday for making insulting remarks to a young white woman of this place. No excitement was caused by the lynching.

YOUTHFUL ATHLETES CONTEST THIS WEEK

Schoolboys Will Meet on Playgrounds, to Qualify for September Finals.

Thursday and Saturday of this week have been set as the days for the last preliminaries of the playground contests, to determine those who shall be entitled to compete in the finals in the final tournament in September.

The municipal grounds will be the scene of Thursday's trials, and the events will be held on the school grounds on Saturday. The scoring will be three points for first, two for second, and one for third. Two points are necessary to qualify for the September finals.

SAILORS FIRE SHIP; MUTINEERS IN IRONS

Captain Subdues Crew After Fight
Lasting Ten Hours—Men
Wanted to Hunt Gold.

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 10.—The crew of the whaler Bowhead, owned by Liebes & Co., San Francisco, mutinied at Fort Clarence, near here, and for ten hours there was a fierce fight between Captain Tilden and his officers and the twenty-two members of the crew.

The captain finally won, and the crew is now in irons. The mutiny followed an attempt to destroy the vessel by fire Saturday night. The crew became sullen and wanted to be put to shore to rush to the gold fields. Upon the refusal of Captain Tilden to comply with their demands they set fire to the ship, and it was several hours before the officers and a few loyal sailors were able to put out the fire by hard work at the pumps.

RICHMOND DRUNKARDS POSTED IN SALOONS

Barkeepers Forbidden to Sell
Drinks to Habitual "Tanks."
Space for More Names.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 10.—Every saloon in Richmond is to be placarded with the names of habitual drunkards and a warning that the persons listed must not be sold any intoxicants. The cards, which are now being prepared by the police department are to be posted in a conspicuous place in the bar rooms, and will be printed in type large enough to be easily read by the patrons. They will contain blank spaces for the insertion of the names of those who may fall from the water wagon after the date of posting.

THOMAS NORWOOD FUNERAL TOMORROW

Aged Lumber Dealer Dies of Hemorrhage While on Vacation.

Funeral services for Thomas Norwood, a well-known lumber dealer of Washington, will be held at his late residence, 1512 S street, tomorrow at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Norwood had been a resident of Washington for the past eighteen years. He died suddenly yesterday from a hemorrhage of the brain at Monterey Inn, Blue Ridge Summit, Pa. He was seventy years old.

For many years he was a resident of Baltimore, being connected with the firm of Joseph Thomas & Son. He came to Washington in 1890, and entered the lumber business with the E. E. Jackson Lumber Company. Mr. Norwood had led a retired life for the last ten years.

He married Miss Eleanor Lawton, of Baltimore, and is survived by Miss Henrietta Lawton Norwood, a daughter, and three sons—J. Lawton, of Baltimore; Walter O., of Washington, and Hyatt Norwood, of California. Mr. Norwood was a deacon of the Mount Vernon Avenue Christian Church.

WOMAN WILL SWIM ENGLISH CHANNEL

Miss Roberts Believes She Can Negotiate Hitherto Unaccomplished Feat.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Miss Martha Robert, a Swiss girl, of Neuchatel, who holds many medals for swimming, intends to make another attempt to swim the English channel.

Last year she and her older sister created a sensation in Paris by swimming in an amateur race and finishing ahead of many of the male contenders.

Miss Robert says she will not be content until she has swum the channel and has shown that she is capable of just as much exertion as any man.

CARNEGIE WILL PASS ON COSTA RICA PLANS

Little Republic Asks Advice About
Court House, For Which Steel
Man Gave $100,000.

Andrew Carnegie has been asked to pass upon the plans drawn by Costa Rican architects for the Central American court of justice building, at Cartago.

This courtesy of passing on the plans is offered Mr. Carnegie in view of his donation of $100,000 toward the construction of the courthouse. Any suggestions he may think desirable will be accepted by the Costa Rican authorities. Cartago is a city of about 15,000 inhabitants, and was the seat of government of the Spaniards, during their rule in the Western Hemisphere.

RICH WIDOW WEDS POOR HOTEL CLERK

Mrs. Howard Brolaski, an Attractive St. Louis Woman, Astonishes Her Friends.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Mrs. Howard Brolaski, one of the richest and most beautiful women of St. Louis, astonished her friends here today, when it became known that she had married W. Norton, a clerk of the Plaza, who was long at the old Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Mrs. Brolaski's first husband was president of the Great Shoe Company. He left his widow about $1,000,000. Mrs. Norton was married last Monday, immediately after her return from a European tour.

She is stopping here with Mrs. Rude, her sister, and Mr. Norton is still at his desk at the Plaza Hotel, but it is declared that he will go into business for himself in the near future.

KILLS 40 SNAKES; ESTABLISHES RECORD

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 10.—In chasing a copperhead snake in the Susquehanna Hills, W. L. Kreidler, a repair foreman on the Pennsylvania railroad, turned a rock over and uncovered a den of forty of the venomous reptiles. He was armed with nothing but a club, but succeeded in dispatching all of the forty snakes, none of which measured less than eighteen inches. Kreidler escaped without being bitten.

WIRE IN HEART, YOUNG COW DIES

WOODBURY, N. J., Aug. 10.—William Seehous, of South Harrison township, lost a valuable heifer a few days ago in a peculiar manner. The animal was purchased recently at a cattle sale, and since then had been gradually drooping until death relieved it of its suffering.

An examination was made and a piece of wire about three inches long was found imbedded in its heart. The condition indicated that the wire had been changing its position till the heifer died.

HIT BY BULLET; DIES OF LOCKJAW

FREELAND, Pa., Aug. 10.—Mr. Vanaheim, health officer, is dead of lockjaw. Mr. Vanaheim, while examining a small revolver a few days ago accidentally discharged the weapon.

The ball made a slight flesh wound on his hand, and nothing was thought of it. While going home one night, however, he was seized with violent pain and fell dead on the pavement.

The Day You Did the Ironing=Yourself

Do you remember
the time the laun-
dress failed to come
on ironing day?

You thought you
would save a little money by doing the
ironing yourself—
and what happened?

You had backache
for days—got nervous and tired and scorched your fine lawn waist—forgot and left the gas burning about three hours after you took the irons off the stove. All in all, how much did you save?

And there was a so much better way. If you had just run your eyes down The Times Want Ad Columns you would have found scores of good laundresses—the only inconvenience to you would have been a day's delay in the ironing.

And wouldn't that have been better than backache,
frazzled nerves, scorched shirt waists, and wasted gas?

Next time—try reading The Times Want Ads.

Try reading them all the time—every day, and you'll save yourself many a housekeeping worry and many a bad
half hour.
